Oregon State Grad is new ACEC National Chair

Robin Greenleaf, an Oregon State University graduate, is the new ACEC National Chair for 2021-22. She is the first woman to serve in the position.

ACEC National Chair
Robin Greenleaf, PE, LEED AP, FACEC
Architectural Engineers, Inc.

Ms. Greenleaf is Chief Executive Officer of Architectural Engineers, Inc., a women-owned mechanical, electrical, plumbing, fire protection (MEP/FP), and lighting design services firm based in Boston, MA.

As chair, Greenleaf will be responsible for providing leadership that supports the underlying mission of ACEC, implementing the national strategic plan, and liaising with member organizations over the course of her term. “ACEC is focused on providing enhanced value to its’ members as we navigate our way through the pandemic and I intend to play a leadership role in these ongoing efforts while preparing the organization for what is next. Our strategic plan will inform our actions and provide for a strong future for our member firms,” said Greenleaf.

She has served as President of ACEC/MA, and serves as PAC Co-Champion for ACEC/MA. She is former Chair of CAMEE, the Coalition of American Mechanical and Electrical Engineers.

Greenleaf holds a BS in Civil Engineering from Oregon State University, and an MS in Structural Engineering from Drexel University.
